Never Give Up.

In response to an invitation given by the Sunday School of District No. 1, Speaker, we met at Moore's banners, the band from Brown City was discoursing some fine music; and Dry Goods, Groceries, let me here remark, that they are a fine set of fellows and have the best and wishes of their Speaker friends. At 10:30 a. m. all the schools fell in line BROCKWAY, . . MICHIGAN. of march, headed by their superintendents, and were led by the band to Wm. Reddicliffe's grove, where, after a few exercises, all sat down to well filled tables and by the display of wish-bones, chicken roosts must have suffered-and stomachs too.

After dinner we listened to some vocal and instrumental music by the well trained pupils, and also some fine well rendered recitations, a few Marsh's "Birth and Death of Christ," Miss Sarah Zavitz "Death Bed of Benedict Arnold," also a reading, "Co Boss," and last but not least dence.

—Why is it that the balance of the sidewalk on west side of Main St is not completed? Would it not be a good idea for the council to order the street commissioner to go on and build the same.

Came frightened thinking him to be a burglar. On asking him what he wanted he replied that he was looking for a place to lie down and go to sleep. She told him he had better leave the house at once and find some other place, which he did. When the parties who heard the screams arrived they found the same. Brown City were present and entertained the people with some short and interesting speeches. The Sunday school hereby extend their sincere thanks to Messrs. Hickey & Fraser for their kindness in placing an organ on the grounds.

After much pleasure all wended their way homeward muttering:-"The best pic-nic I have attended for years." A WITNESS.
